

Local Contractor Wins National Award

Earlier this month, local home improvement contractor, American Metal Roofs of Northern Ohio, was honored with the Shining Star by their metal roofing supplier, Classic Metal Roofing Systems, for their performance in 2013. This award is given to only a few roofing contractors across North America who exemplify superior customer service and quality resulting in high volume sales.

Classic Metal Roofing Systems President, Todd Miller, praised American Metal Roofs of Northern Ohio, “Every year American Metal Roofs of Northern Ohio sets an example for home improvement contractors across the country in their care for customers and quality installations. We are honored that they choose to partner with us to serve homeowners in their area.”

Classic Metal Roofing Systems sells its metal roofing systems through a network of independent dealers across North America. Classic Metal Roofing Systems partners and works closely with these independent dealers to ensure consistent quality and care for homeowners around the country. Only a few of these organizations are recognized at the end of each year for their exemplary success and service.

Miller continues, “We relish the opportunity to honor American Metal Roofs of Northern Ohio as they continue to set an example for the entire industry. Day after day, we confidently recommend American Metal Roofs of Northern Ohio to provide beautiful metal roofing systems to homeowners.”

Classic Metal Roofing Systems has been manufacturing “the world’s most beautiful metal roofs” since 1980. They have a wide breadth of products in aluminum and copper that creates beautiful facsimiles of traditional shakes, shingles, slates, and tiles.
